

On February 17, 2009, the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) was passed by Congress and signed into law by President Obama. ARRA provides increased support to several existing federal programs administered by states, creates new programs such as the State Fiscal Stabilization Fund, and offers opportunities for states to apply for competitive grant programs.

The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act's significant investment in North Carolina totaled almost $19.5 billion, including assistance for those needing help the most through increases in unemployment benefits, Medicaid payments, and food stamps. In addition to those expanded services, ARRA gives hundreds of thousands of working North Carolinians a break through tax credits like the Making Work Pay tax credit and the First Time Homebuyer's tax credit.

The Recovery Act is not like earlier attempts to revive the nation's economy. It is not only a one-time infusion of federal funds; instead it is a long-term effort to restore economic expansion in the short-term, as well as prepare the nation's economy for stable, healthy long-term growth. Under the terms of the Recovery Act, support for North Carolina's economy will include both investments made directly by the federal government and investments of federal funds that are made under the oversight of the North Carolina state government.

The Recovery Act placed a special emphasis on maintaining education funding. Governor Beverly Perdue furthered this commitment by pledging additional recovery funds from the Recovery Act to education, and leading North Carolina to additional funds by winning $400 million in the Race to the Top program.

Most of the ARRA education funds are distributed to local schools through existing funding formulas. Special Education Funds and Title I funds go to schools based on eligible student enrollment. State Fiscal Stabilization Funds (SFSF) and the EduJobs grants were designed to hold schools harmless during the recession, and were distributed to public and charter schools. The school systems have spent the majority of the funds on staff and support. Some projects, such as Race to the Top, will be spent for purchasing products and services rather than salaries for staff.

Authorization for low/no interest bonds for school construction/renovation followed the Department of Public Instruction procedures with initial allotments to the school systems. If a school system could not utilize their allotment, it was released to other school systems that could utilize additional allotments.

Henderson County schools received $19 million in education funding, including $3 million in Special Education funds, $1.5 million in Title I funds, $7.5 million in SFSF funds, $1.2 million in Race to the Top funding and a $4.7 million bond allocation.

Pell Grants are an educational Assistance Program that provides grants to eligible students to receive post-secondary or vocational training. Because Pell Grants are not student loans, they allow students to receive financial assistance to further education and training without incurring additional debt. The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act increased the eligibility and the maximum amount of Pell Grants in 2009 and 2010 as a way to encourage educational opportunities, and to provide a way for eligible applicants to gain new job skills.

In Henderson County, Blue Ridge Community College had 1,057 students funded by Pell Grants; these grants were worth more than $1 million.

The Federal Department of Agriculture increased funding to their Single-Family home program with the ARRA. These resources assisted families in achieving the American Dream of home ownership through direct financial assistance (grants) or credit (loan guarantees). This program pumped more than $729 million into North Carolina, providing assistance to more than 5,400 families.

In Henderson County, 109 families received assistance through this program totaling more than $16 million.

The Department of Energy created the Energy Star Appliance rebate program to help stimulate the economy by incentivizing the purchase of new, more energy efficient appliances, and helping consumers by providing long-term savings from their utility bills. The State Energy Office in the North Carolina Department of Commerce managed the program insuring North Carolina residents and retailers received the maximum benefit from this opportunity. North Carolina retailers sold more than 25,500 new energy efficiency appliances through this program, and North Carolina residents will enjoy energy savings for years to come. The program was so successful, that the State Energy Office reprogrammed additional funding to provide discounts to everyone participating in the program, bringing the total program value from $8 up to $10 Million.

Henderson County retailers sold 332 appliances through the Energy Star Appliance rebate program.

Small Business Assistance

The ARRA provided tax breaks, increased depreciation of business assets, and incentives for hiring for small businesses through the tax law changes found in Part B of the Act. The Recovery Act also established direct aid programs through the federal Small Business Administration (SBA) and US Department of Agriculture (USDA). These programs provided grants, loans and loan guarantees to grant small businesses access to much-needed operational credit during 2009 and 2010.

In Henderson County 19 small businesses received SBA loan guarantees worth almost $16.5 million. According to the small businesses receiving these loans, the Recovery Act saved or created 262 jobs.

Farm Assistance

The Supplemental Revenue Assistance Payments (SURE) Program is administered by the Farm Services Administration in the federal Department of Agriculture, which provides assistance to farmers suffering crop losses due to natural disasters. To qualify for the program a farm must have lost at least 10% of one crop during a natural disaster in a declared disaster county, or lost 50% of a crop during a disaster in a non-disaster county. North Carolina farmers received more than $9 million in total payments under the ARRA-Funded SURE Program.

In Henderson County, $159,267 was received in assistance to farmers because of crop loss to natural disasters.

CARS Program

The Car Allowance Rebate Program (CARS), more widely known as the 'Cash-for-Clunkers' program, provided an incentive for drivers of older, energy inefficient vehicles to upgrade to new cars. This program also provided a large economic impact in North Carolina, and North Carolina dealers received more than 18,000 trade-in vehicles through this program. North Carolina Car Dealers sold more than $400,000,000 worth of new cars (recommended MSRP) through the CARS program. North Carolina drivers will save 172,130 miles per gallon through cars purchased through this program.

In Henderson County, car dealers sold 251 cars worth $5 million through the ARRA CARS program.

Justice and Public Safety Programs

ARRA increased funding to the federal Byrne Justice Assistance Grants Program (JAG). JAG funds were awarded both as a formula allocation to the State, for $34.5 million, and grants distributed by the Governor's Crime Commission to various local governments and entities. In addition, $21,853,798 went to 216 local governments across the state for various purposes in line with the requirements of the act. Finally, there is a federal competitive portion that was open to state or local government applicants.

In Henderson County, the Henderson County Government, and the Town of Hendersonville received JAG program grants worth $120,000.

Additionally the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) established the ARRA Assistance to Firefighters Grant program. The program was a national competitive program designed to improve firefighter safety and response capability/capacity based on need through the construction, renovation or modification of fire stations.

In Henderson County, the Valley Hill Volunteer Fire and Rescue Department received a FEMA grant worth $640,000.

Environment and Natural Resources Programs

ARRA funded several programs to protect the environment, or to develop natural resources more efficiently. These programs ranged from environmental clean-up, such as leaking underground storage tank abatement and Brownfields programs, to EPA clean air grants, wildfire prevention grants, and revolving funds to build, expand, or overhaul existing water and sewer programs. These programs provided nearly $150 million across North Carolina.

In Henderson County, the Carolina Mountain Land Conservancy received $400,000 for watershed protection, and the National Forest and Park Services contracted for more than $1,000,000 in improvements on public lands.

Green Energy Programs

One of the goals of ARRA was to provide grants to help conserve energy and assist in the development of a green economy. The State Energy Office in the North Carolina Department of Commerce received large grants for energy conservation under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act. These grants include the Energy Efficiency Conservation Block Grant (EECBG), funded at just under $20 million, and the State Energy Plan (SEP), funded at $70 million. The State Energy Office then used these grants to make awards to businesses, non-profits, and local governments for various purposes.

In Henderson County, Henderson County and the City of Hendersonville assisted in upgrades to local small business to increase their efficiency, visibility and profitability. These improvements affected seven businesses and were worth $150,000. Henderson County also received than $250,000 in EECBG and SEP funding to increase energy efficiency in public buildings and install solar thermal systems at the Henderson County Courthouse and the Detention Center in Hendersonville. The systems will produce hot water supplying the inmate cafeteria, showers, laundry facilities, and other hot water needs. AdvantageWest Economic Development Group, in the Town of Fletcher, received $479,257 to place three fellows and nine interns in full-time clean-energy businesses. United Chemi-Con, in the Town of Mills River, received a SEP grant of $500,000 to disconnect a large, inefficient oil-fired boiler and several connected steam/heat systems with and replace it with more efficient electric ovens and wash stations, and replace five inefficient air conditioners with more efficient, smaller units that better meet the reduced air conditioning needs that result from eliminating heat loss from the current steam system. Van Wingerden received a SEP grant of $310,000 to install and integrate a hot water storage tank into its existing climate control system to reduce boiler cycling and purging.

Safety Net Programs

Safety net programs are the category of ARRA funding that consists of programs designed to help populations made particularly vulnerable by the economic crisis. These generally include increases in existing programs, most notably the increase in both benefit level and duration of unemployment payments. Increases in the amount and duration of unemployment payments makes up the largest chunk of safety net programs funded through the Recovery Act, totaling more than $3.5 billion statewide over more than two years. Safety net programs such as unemployment insurance and SNAP (formerly known as Food Stamps), not only benefit the recipient, but have a proven economic impact on a community.

Henderson County residents received more than $26 Million in Unemployment Insurance increases during the 2 ½ year ARRA benefits increase. County residents also received $4 Million in SNAP benefit increases, and $7 million in one-time payments of $250 to social security recipients.

Henderson County received more than $850,000 for Head Start Programs.

Henderson County Feature Story

Henderson County fights fire with Recovery Act funds.

The Recovery Act provided more than $3 billion to the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) and General Services Administration (GSA) in support of homeland security programs. Of that amount more than $210 million went to the DHS, who established the ARRA Firestation Construction (FSC) Grant program to enhance the safety of rural communities.

“America’s firefighters play a critical role in disaster prevention and response,” said DHS Secretary Napolitano. “These Recovery Act-funded fire station construction projects and upgrades will strengthen community preparedness and the nation’s emergency response capabilities.”

Nationwide, fewer than 120 Firestation Construction Grants were awarded. Valley Hill in Henderson County received a FSC grant to construct a new fire station. The grant was worth more than $600,000.

The Valley Hill Fire Department is an almost all-volunteer force with more than 40 members serving rural Henderson County. Valley Hill provides fire and rescue services, CPR classes, general fire safety lectures, smoke detector give-aways and battery replacements, home inspections, and other forms of community outreach and civic participation, including blood pressure checkups and participation in the 'lighten-up' weight loss program.

Valley Hill applied for and won a competitive FSG grant to construct Valley Hill Fire Station #4. The new facility will be 4,300 square foot metal building with three new vehicle bays, and two rooms for sleeping quarters for emergency personnel.

This program was bid to John W. Abbott Construction in Asheville in mid-2010, who has been able to expand their business due to the opportunities provided by the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act. The project began construction approximately April 1, 2011, on an unimproved site in Henderson County. By the end of June 2011 the metal structural work was completed, and by the end of July 2011 gas, electrical, and water infrastructure was in place. Construction on the new facility is nearly complete. The Valley Hill Fire Station #4 should be completed and operational soon.
